Sicilians Hail Amgot Declaration

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Almost incredible first-hand reports of broken morale among Italians in Sicily poured into Allied headquarters today.

An Allied officer who read the proclamation of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander announcing the determination of the Allies to smash Fascism was hoisted on the shoulders of a Sicilian crowd and carried about in triumph in one town. The people shouted, "This is the day of our deliverance!"

Aussies Vote Here

OTTAWA (CP)—Noel Deschamps, official secretary of the Australian High Commissioner's office here, has been appointed returning officer to take the vote of Australians in North America for the Commonwealth general election, Aug. 21, the High Commissioner's office announced today.

Tojo Talks Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Japanese Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo was quoted by the Berlin radio today as declaring in a speech calling for increased food and industrial production that Japan's armed forces are preparing to "deal more decisive blows" to her enemies.

Bombing Justified

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—British Ambassador Lord Halifax said here today the bombing of Rome was justified by military tactics.

"As I get the report," the touring ambassador told a press conference after arriving here, "the bombs were dropped on the rail yards. This was done to stop the flow of German reinforcements to Sicily. By stopping this flow, many lives of American, British and Canadian soldiers will be saved."

Postwar Plan

LONDON (CP)—A plan for postwar international trade, the backers of which say is designed to insure the full consumption of the world's principal export goods and raise the living standards of all countries, was offered to the public today at a luncheon attended by many of Britain's labor and industrial leaders.

Axis Claiming Rome Church Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rome radio broadcast the first Axis assertion that church property had been damaged by today's United States bombing of Rome in the form of a Stefani agency dispatch, which said Pope Pius had visited the Basilica of St. Lorenzo Fuori le Mura, (outside the wall), "devastated this morning by bombs dropped by Anglo-Saxon aviators." The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

There was no word from any other source that St. Lorenzo had been damaged.

That church is about 1,000 yards northeast of the railway yards which formed the prime objective of the Allied raid. Vatican City and St. Peter's are some four miles west of the station.

Deferments Scored

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. Provincial Command of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada is voicing criticism of present methods of granting deferments to men eligible for military service and suggesting the setting up of a deferment board.

A resolution at the annual meeting at White Rock proposes a board consisting of a government representative, the employer, a labor representative and a representative of the ex-servicemen's group.

B.C. Man Wins D.F.C.

LONDON (CP)—Ft. Lt. Norman Keane of White Rock, B.C., has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Cardinal Regrets Raid

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 19 (CP)—Joseph Cardinal Macarty, Archbishop of Armagh and Roman Catholic Primate of Ireland, said today when informed of the bombing of Rome: "It is very serious news and I am sorry to hear it."

Red Army Tanks Roll Deep Behind Nazi Ore Lines

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN

MOSCOW (AP)—Advancing Russian armies have battered their way from the heavily wooded terrain northeast of Orel and are moving swiftly across rolling fields in their intensified drive to pinch off that German bastion and cut the Orel-Bryansk Railway, front dispatches reported today.

Separate detachments of Soviet tanks rolled deep into the enemy's rear to the approaches of the main enemy base, believed to be Orel itself, while massed Russian forces were poised on a springboard in the Oputkha River valley eight miles northeast of Orel.

As the campaign reached the close of the second week of furious fighting along the 165-mile stretch of the central Russian front, the Nazi armies were reported reeling back under the sledge-hammer blows of the Russian counteroffensive.

(The German communiqué today said the Red armies had attacked in vain along the central and southern sectors of the eastern front Sunday, suffering serious losses in manpower as well as 337 tanks.

GERMAN CLAIMS

"On the Kuban bridgehead," the communiqué claimed, "the enemy discontinued his attacks in the course of the afternoon owing to his severe losses." Similar attempts to pierce the German lines on the Mius River and in the lower Donets basin were foiled by the tenacious defence and counterattacks of Nazi forces, the communiqué added. On the Orel front and north of Belgorod, the Germans claimed they had smashed repeated attacks by Soviet infantry and tank attacks. The German air force was successful in repelling Soviet air attacks, the communiqué said.

The Soviet midnight communiqué reported the Red Army had advanced an additional four miles in one sector during the fighting Sunday, capturing several villages and killing about 5,000 German troops.

The battle, which was intended by the Germans to pinch off the Kursk salient and straighten out the line, continued to pile up heavy losses in the Nazi armored and air divisions, the Russians said. They announced they had knocked out 78 tanks and 137 planes Saturday and said an incomplete check showed 20 more tanks destroyed Sunday to bring German losses to approximately 3,500 tanks and 2,000 planes in the last two weeks.

4 Women Assaulted By Servicemen

City police were joined by air force police today in the search for a man wearing air force uniform, who early Sunday morning attacked Mrs. S. McLaren, 574 Bay Street, at Bay and Douglas, and assaulted her.

Mrs. McLaren was found by military police. She was removed to Royal Jubilee Hospital and attended by house doctors.

Her injuries included cuts and bruises to the face. Her false teeth were broken and her wrist watch was missing when she was found by police.

Mrs. McLaren told police she was walking north on Douglas on the west side of the street when an air force man grabbed her from behind. He dragged her, she said, to the vacant lot next to the Bank of Commerce and assaulted her there. Police found the woman at 2.55 Sunday morning.

HAD ENGLISH ACCENT

Mrs. McLaren described the assailant as middle-aged, tall, fair-haired, and wearing a blue winter air force uniform. She said he spoke with an English accent.

Sgt. Harry Mercer and Constable Samuel McKenzie searched the district without results. Early Sunday morning checks were made with cafes, taxi stands, rooming houses and the bus depot.

MILITARY TARGETS STAND OUT—Map shows Rome's railroad station and government offices bombed today in broad daylight by force of Allied planes. Returning fliers said in Cairo their targets, of which railway yards were most important, were easily hit. Vatican City lies five miles west.

Targets in Rome Easily Located

By STEPHEN BARBER

CAIRO (AP)—Pilots who bombed Rome today said after returning to their north African bases that they had no difficulty in finding their military targets in the clear morning sunshine because of the unusually large number of landmarks which dot the Italian capital, according to first reports reaching Cairo.

The pilots said they saw evidence that the Italians already had taken steps to protect some of Rome's historic monuments.

2 Airmen Missing After Duncan Crash

Two airmen are missing, presumed drowned following the crash of an R.C.A.F. flying boat Sunday into the waters of Crofton Bay. Four others in the crew of six were taken to hospital suffering from shock, two of them to Duncan, two to Nanaimo.

R.C.A.F. officials here confirmed the report of the crash and said next-of-kin of the men have been notified and that their names will be released shortly. An investigation is under way.

London Says No Promises Given Not to Bomb Rome

LONDON (CP)—The bombing of Rome today suggested to observers here that the Allies had finally decided military considerations outweighed cries of protest sure to come from Axis and possibly from neutral sources.

The raid gave an answer at long last to arguments which have flourished in the British press and in the House of Commons concerning the possibility of bombing the Eternal City.

The last official statement on the question was given by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden June 30, when he told the Commons:

"We would not hesitate to bomb Rome to the best of our ability and as heavily as possible if the course of the war should render such action necessary."

Bombers Avoid Ancient Sites

The Allied headquarters announcements of the bombing declared the plane crews were given instructions to avoid historic and religious targets, but advocates of the bombing of Rome long have contended there are an ample number of other legitimate targets in the capital city of the Fascist regime.

In addition to housing German and Italian troops, Rome is an important centre for railways which transport troops and supplies from the northern area to the defence lines south of Rome. There are also numerous industrial targets in the city's outskirts and on the Campagna Romana, the plan which surrounds the city for a radius of 20 miles. Mention of "the vicinity" of Rome apparently meant the attack was directed against these outlying targets.

This outer industrial ring includes a number of minor aircraft factories, chemical works, radio factories and gas and water works. Six big railway stations and a railway repair shop are located in the centre of Rome. Large military barracks are ranged along both sides of the Tiber.

East of Rome lie Tivoli, site of an important military airbase, and Gaiola, a city completely devoted to aviation. Southwest is the Centocelle airfield and five miles north is a large civilian airport.

Opponents of the bombing of Rome were not without recruits even in Britain. Frequent questions have been asked in Parliament indicating concern over the propriety of such a move. Some individuals spoke out openly against it.

Mr. Eden's reply always was the same.

Third of Sicily In Allied Hands After 10-Day Fight

By LOUIS V. HUNTER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (CP)—Canadian 1st Division troops have captured Piazza Amerina, in the centre of the long Sicilian front, it was announced today as the Allied forces gained all along the line.

To the east, edging up toward the toe of Italy, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's British 8th Army burrowed relentlessly into local defences, protecting Catania on the coast, pressing closer to that keystone of the enemy's position in all central and northeastern Sicily.

In the west the U.S. 7th Army captured Caltanissetta, almost half way across the mid-section of Sicily and 15 miles northwest of Piazza Amerina.

While the 8th Army was fighting the hardest battle of the Sicilian campaign against the hard core of Axis resistance, Maj. Gen. Guy Simonds' Canadian units, jabbing dangerously at the enemy's western flank where it is stretched in front of the roadless area of Mount Etna, were said in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communiqué to be gaining important ground "with skill and determination in difficult country."

In this 10th day of the Allied invasion, the combined forces had taken from the Axis approximately one-third of all Sicily, the official war bulletin stated.

Romans Warned By Leaflets

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Following is the English translation of the text of leaflets dropped over Rome by Allied airplanes today:

To the citizens of Rome. You have already been warned that military objectives in the vicinity of Rome are liable to be bombed by the Allied air force.

When this occurs the Fascist government, who have consistently concealed from you the facts about the war, will pretend that we are trying to destroy those cultural monuments which are the glory not only of Rome but the civilized world.

AXIS MIGHT BOMB VATICAN

It is possible, moreover, in order to find plausibility to their lying statements, the Fascist government or their German associates will themselves arrange that bombs will be dropped on the centre of Rome or even on Vatican City.

We leave it to your intelligence to decide whether it is likely that

Heart of Fascist Italy Blasted In Broad Daylight

By RELMAN MORIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Allied heavy and medium bombers today blasted military objectives in Rome for the first time in the war, striking in daylight at the very heart of Fascist Italy in an emphatic follow-up to the Churchill-Roosevelt ultimatum demanding that Italians remove their country from the war.

Specially trained Allied crews carried home a precision attack, pinpointing targets which supposedly were protected by their proximity to some of the most sacred symbols and monuments of Christianity.

(It was an all-United States force of planes which bombed Rome. This was disclosed to night at Allied headquarters in north Africa.)

A terrific force of explosives burst in Rome.

The city's railroad yards recently have been filled to overflowing with vast shipments of war material and detachments of troops probably bound for Sicily to reinforce Axis armies there.

Although recent Allied raids on Naples are known to have disrupted rail communications on that line, the Rome route is an even more vital link in the Italian military supply system.

The principal centre of Italian aircraft construction and repair also is located in Rome.

Prior to the falling of the bombs went leaflets telling the Italians why the Eternal City had to be attacked—because the Fascists, capitalizing on hallowed precincts, had systematically concentrated their war machinery there and funnelled German troops as well as their own through Rome railways.

"It is from this war engine that weapons to kill our soldiers have been coming," the Allied message said.

The bombing was announced by the U.S. War Department in Washington at 5.29 a.m., before the bomber had time to return.

For the first time in this war, a report on a bombing was released before the attack actually started. Correspondents were given the information at 11 a.m. The bomb bay doors were opened in the lead flight of the Allied planes 13 minutes later and the radio operators on the flight informed headquarters instantly.

The reason was to forestall or discount a flood of Axis propaganda claiming Rome had been bombed indiscriminately, with lurid and fantastic tales flashed to Roman Catholic countries over the world.

Rome is barely 350 miles from advanced Allied air bases and Mussolini and his Fascist chieftains are reported to have lived in terror of a bombing of their capital since the turn in the fortunes of war in the Mediterranean.

The Fascist chieftain is reported to have had several different headquarters arranged in various parts of Italy, but his main office remained in the capital.

Italy at Monte Corvino and Pomerigiano Saturday night, dropping explosives in strings across runways and buildings, it was announced. In direct support of the British 8th Army driving up the east coast of Sicily, other fleets of aircraft blasted at Catania and Randazzo, a key communications centre across Mount Etna from Catania.

Across the strait from these objectives the Middle East force of R.A.F. four-engined Halifaxes and U.S. Liberator hurled tons of explosives on Reggio Calabria's rail and port facilities early Sunday.

Allied air units operating in the Mediterranean theatre destroyed a total of 18 enemy planes Sunday against a loss of four of their own craft.

In a brilliant "kill" beyond Sardinia, U.S. fighters patrolling the Tyrrhenian Sea caught and wiped out a formation of 15 Junkers-52 transports used by the enemy to carry troops and supplies to Sicily.

The devastating interception was similar to those off the north African coast during the Tunisian campaign when as many as 80 German air transports were destroyed in one attack.

All Enemy Planes Ended in Sea

The fighters spotted the formation of JU-52s between Sardinia and the island of Ustica and not one of them escaped crashing into the sea.

R.A.F. bombers led the way for U.S. medium bombers in the crushing attack on Catania Saturday night when more than 85 tons of bombs struck the doomed city. They met moderate anti-aircraft fire but no enemy fighters.

The attack on military, industrial and communication objectives within the boundaries of Rome was made by a strong force of Allied bombers whose crews went out with what was described as "most emphatic" instructions to keep wide of Vatican City and the central part of Rome where the majority of religious and cultural monuments are located.

The raiders concentrated particularly on focal points of the Italian rail communications that pass through the Rome bottleneck. Industrial sectors of Mussolini's war machine also came under attack from the powerful air fleet.

This was in line with a communication which President Roosevelt sent to Pope Pius XII recently assuring him that the Allies, in attacking Sicily and Italy, would do all in their power to avoid damage to the Vatican and property of the Roman Catholic Church in Italy.

Bombing Announced While Still Going On

Bombs were away—dropped on their targets in broad daylight at 11.13 a.m. (2.13 a.m., P.D.T.)

The bombing was announced by the U.S. War Department in Washington at 5.29 a.m., before the bomber had time to return.

For the first time in this war, a report on a bombing was released before the attack actually started. Correspondents were given the information at 11 a.m. The bomb bay doors were opened in the lead flight of the Allied planes 13 minutes later and the radio operators on the flight informed headquarters instantly.

The reason was to forestall or discount a flood of Axis propaganda claiming Rome had been bombed indiscriminately, with lurid and fantastic tales flashed to Roman Catholic countries over the world.

Rome is barely 350 miles from advanced Allied air bases and Mussolini and his Fascist chieftains are reported to have lived in terror of a bombing of their capital since the turn in the fortunes of war in the Mediterranean.

The Fascist chieftain is reported to have had several different headquarters arranged in various parts of Italy, but his main office remained in the capital.

Thousands of Italians had flocked to the capital, believing it would be safe from bombing.

The pilots, navigators and bomb aimers who made the attack were hand-picked from among thousands, selected for special qualities in which their military efficiency was only one, and then went through intensive weeks of training by Allied intelligence experts who had lived for years in Rome. They memorized a large map of Rome to be sure of their targets.

They had to take all these precautions because Mussolini had built up a big war machine virtually in the shadow of Vatican City. The Pope's residence is about five miles from the big Rome railway freight yards where bombs were planted today, and the Roman Forum is even closer, about three miles.

The Allied air forces also struck at mainland airfields of Axis soldiers.

Italy at Monte Corvino and Pomerigiano Saturday night, dropping explosives in strings across runways and buildings, it was announced. In direct support of the British 8th Army driving up the east coast of Sicily, other fleets of aircraft blasted at Catania and Randazzo, a key communications centre across Mount Etna from Catania.

This was in line with a communication which President Roosevelt sent to Pope Pius XII recently assuring him that the Allies, in attacking Sicily and Italy, would do all in their power to avoid damage to the Vatican and property of the Roman Catholic Church in Italy.

Railway Yards Principal Targets

The communiqué declared the principal target of the raid was the railway marshalling yard in the capital, which it said, "is of the greatest importance to the Axis war effort, and in particular for the movement of German troops."

The attack was carried out, the announcement said, by both heavy and medium bombers of the Mediterranean air command.

Rome, a city of approximately 900,000, is situated on the west coast of the Italian mainland about midway of the long, narrow peninsula.

It is about 350 miles from the nearest point on the north African coast.

The brief Allied communiqué announcing the raid said: "Leaflets also were dropped over the city during the raid."

Allied headquarters emphasized that Rome is one of four focal points of railway transportation in Italy, Naples, Bologna and Foggia—the other three—have been bombed heavily on scores of occasions.

To prevent Axis military supplies from going through the supposedly safe Rome route, the capital was attacked.

The leaflets reminded the Italians that "over a period of years Mussolini designedly brought more and more war plants and arsenals to Rome, where weapons are built to kill Allied soldiers."

SYMBOLIC NAMES
According to the Journal of Calendar Reform this is the year 2603 of the Japanese calendar. The Japs have the habit of naming their years and it seems very appropriate.

For instance, the year 1941 was called the Year of the Snake and everyone admits that the Japs closely followed the procedure of snakes during that 12-month, capping it with their treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor while still making peace overtures.

The year 1943 is also appropriately named—the Year of the Goat. By the sound of Mr. Churchill's speech promising their cities will be laid in ashes and the way the United States troops are working at their ships and men, it looks as if the Japanese will be the goats.

Allied Planes Hit Jap Navy Force In South Pacific

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC (AP)—Allied airplanes and surface ships battered Japanese shipping in the Solomon Islands at the week-end as U.S. troops increased their pressure on Munda with attacks on enemy positions near that key airbase.

United States warships beat back two more attempts to run supplies to the besieged Munda garrison on New Georgia. Two destroyer flotillas, the first of three ships, the second of six, were intercepted west of Kolombangara Island and forced to retreat northward. One destroyer was believed to have been sunk and hits were scored on three others.

AIRFIELD BLASTED

A powerful aerial force, described by a spokesman as almost as strong as the 200-plane armada that sank seven Japanese ships and shot down 49 planes in the Buin-Faisi area Saturday, struck again at the remnants of enemy shipping in that harbor and pounded the nearby Kahili airfield. Thirteen Zeros were shot down. A cargo ship was sunk and two destroyers and another merchantman were damaged.

The raid was made by four-engine Liberators and torpedo and dive bombers with a strong fighter escort. Four Allied planes failed to return.

Allied planes scored another victory over New Guinea Sunday. Greatly outnumbered, the Allied fighters slammed into a formation of 50 enemy aircraft, shot down two fighters, probably destroyed four others and damaged two more—all without loss to themselves.

Sharp patrol clashes were reported from the Salamaua sector. Australian jungle fighters captured Japanese positions near Mt. Tambu and Orodubi. Japanese counterattacks were repulsed. The ground action was supported by bombers and fighters which skimmed the treetops, pinning the Japanese to their holes in the jungle.

3,500 Workers Idle At Montreal Plant

MONTREAL (CP)—About 3,500 workers at Canadian Vickers plant here remained on strike today in support of demands for a full cost-of-living bonus.

The men on strike are members of unions affiliated with the Canadian Congress of Labor and a number of workers not members of a union.

Spokesmen for the workers said officials of the company had joined with the C.C.L. in asking the National War Labor Board July 1 for a full cost-of-living bonus to replace the partial bonus paid at present, but that no reply had been received as yet.

Members of unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor remained at their jobs at Vickers.

Meanwhile, a sympathy strike of some of the workers of Montreal Locomotive Works, which started Saturday, was over today with company officials reporting the plant back at full strength.

T. R. McLagan, general manager at Vickers, said the men were seeking a raise in their cost-of-living bonus from $2.70 weekly to $4.25. And added that "Canadian Vickers and representatives of the unionized and non-unionized workers in the plant made a joint application" to the board for the increase.

Paul E. Marquette, provincial representative of the C.C.L., said the men had left their jobs without word from the C.C.L. and that union officials were asking them to return to work quickly pending settlement of the dispute.

Bombs in France Heard in England

LONDON (CP)—A strong force of Allied planes was seen heading across the English Channel this afternoon in the direction of Calais and Boulogne.

Observers on the southeast coast said the planes flew almost at sea level. Other planes were heard along the coast.

Heavy explosions rumbled across the Channel from the continent a little later. Fighters ran a shuttle over Folkestone, one large group returning as another formation went out.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

DE WITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

This 202nd week of the Hitlerian attempt to conquer the world finds the United Nations holding a vigorous initiative right around the globe, and things going so well for them that Prime Minister Churchill admits he is "almost afraid to say how well."

The bombing of military objectives in the Eternal City of Rome is a signal of Allied determination, and a grim warning to supporters of Mussolini and his gangster ilk that "all they take the sword shall perish with the sword."

The invasion of Sicily proceeds like the ticking of a clock, and the Allies have established a secure line across the southeastern third of the island.

The amazing Russians, having stopped the Nazi offensive, continue to surge forward in a counter-attack which is threatening the main enemy base at Orel in the central front south of Moscow.

PRESSURE ON JAPS

In the southwest Pacific the Allies have continued to weaken Japanese air and naval power. Troops are drawing in about the strong base of Munda. We are getting ahead with the job of loosening the enemy's hold on that whole vast island area.

It's a highly interesting circumstance that Hitler and his predecessor, Kaiser Wilhelm, arrived at crucial defensive positions at about the same period in their campaigns. Actually Adolf is a bit behind the emperor's schedule. The First Great War lasted four years, three months and two weeks. The Fuehrer has five months to equal that.

The Kaiser came within a split hair of winning the war in his great offensive on the western front in March of 1918. That was about nine months before Germany yelled "kamerad." It corresponds roughly to the all-out offensive which Hitler planned to launch against Russia this spring, and finally got around to, some three weeks ago—with unpleasant results for him.

Hitler at this juncture would seem to be in a position similar to that of the Kaiser in the latter's final few months of the war. That is to say, the Emperor was terribly short of resources of all sorts, and he was being compelled to fight on too many fronts.

Many people regard Hitler as engaged on only one front—the Russian. Actually, however, he is battling on several "fronts" which are beginning to squeeze him hard.

Sicily isn't a "second front" in

Australia Issues Writs For Election

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Writs for the election of the 17th Commonwealth Parliament were issued during the week-end when the electoral rolls were closed. The election will take place Aug. 31.

It is estimated 4,500,000 citizens will be qualified to vote and under Australia's compulsory voting legislation they must vote both for a member of the House of Representatives for the district in which they reside and for a team of three members of the Senate for their state.

Special provisions have been made so that members of the armed services can vote, no matter in what part of the world—the southwest Pacific, Canada, Britain or elsewhere—they are stationed.

VOTE AT CAMP

These and all members of the forces, numbering several thousand, in Australian camps, will vote as absentees for the constituency representative they choose in their own district and for a senate team for their own residential states.

Commonwealth returning officers will be appointed in London and at Canadian and other overseas headquarters where Australians are serving. They will supply a list of candidates and ballot papers to all commanding officers, who will arrange for members of the forces to vote before specially designated officers, and for the return of the votes to the returning officer for the area, where they will be counted and the figures cabled to divisional returning officers throughout Australia.

Iva Lisicka, Gwen M. Shaw Head University Entrance Pass List

Iva Lisicka, Czechoslovakian refugee, pupil at Norfolk House private school, and Gwendolyn Margaret Shaw, pupil at St. Margaret's private school, were the top students in Greater Victoria writing University Entrance examinations last month, according to the annual pass list made public today by Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education.

Highest student in the province was Donald Geo. Brown of University Hill High School, Vancouver, with a percentage of 92.4. He receives a Royal Institution Scholarship of $175.

Miss Lisicka and Miss Shaw also receive $175 scholarships from the Royal Institution. Miss Lisicka's percentage was 91.8 and Miss Shaw received 90.8 per cent.

The 15-and-a-half-year-old refugee child came here almost three years ago, from London, to join her uncle and aunt, Dr. Walter Kluckauf and his wife, Dr. Eva Kluckauf, who arrived in Victoria several years previously from Czechoslovakia. They lived at the Empress Hotel and have traveled extensively, arriving back in Victoria a week ago from New York, where they had been studying at Columbia University. They are now at Harrogate Apartments, Beach Drive.

Miss Lisicka is the daughter of Charles Lisicka, a Czechoslovak diplomat, now attached to the Czech government in exile in London, and Mrs. Lisicka. When their daughter arrived in England in 1938 she could speak not a word of English, but so brilliant a student was she that she took a scholarship in English at Sherborne College the first year she was there. With her parents, she has lived in Geneva, Paris and Warsaw.

Gwendolyn Shaw is a daughter of Forrest L. Shaw, city solicitor and Mrs. Shaw, Park Boulevard.

Two or three applications of Moseley's Eucalypti Oil and in a few minutes the aches and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the almost unbearable soreness is relieved. It's a wonderful formula—the combination of essential oils with camphor and eucalypti—so splendid that thousands of bottles are sold annually. Moseley's Eucalypti Oil is sold by all druggists. Maybe you have felt that you yourself can do very little, but you yourself, multiplied by thousands of other willing helpers, can accomplish a very great deal. These are grave days and every ounce of our strength will be required to beat the enemy. We know you will gladly do your part.

This is what YOU should do! ACT NOW!

Dark Days Ahead
For Pseudo-Blondes

MELBOURNE (CP)—Australia's artificial blondes have dark days ahead if they rely on hairdressers to retain their color. Color rinses, manicures, marcelling and eyebrow arching are now under a government ban. But the government has been generous, realizing that the feminine morale must be maintained. Manicures went long ago because of the absence of varnishes and removers, but on the priority list are permanent waves, shampoos and sets, tinting (to help the middle-aged), facials and pedicures.

The bride wore a two-piece silk crepe ensemble of blue, with white accessories and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. Robert Adamson, R.C.A.F., of Vancouver, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother.

PROWD—FERGUSON

An old New England church at Ayers, near Boston, Mass., was the scene Monday evening, June 21, of a military wedding of interest in Victoria and Calgary, when Lieut. Miriam Ferguson, W.A. A.C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fletcher Ferguson, Calgary, Alta., was united in marriage to Lieut. Lawrence W. Prowd, R.C.A.S.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. The young couple stood before a flower-banked fireplace at the home of the bride's parents to receive congratulations from relatives and a few close friends, who gathered for the reception. Mr. and Mrs. George were assisted by the groom's father, Mr. C. J. Crawford, and his daughter, Mrs. D. A. Gilley, in welcoming the guests. Silver vases of sweet peas adorned the supper table, which was centred with the cake. Rev. O. L. Jull gave the toast. Lieut. Catherine Aitken, who is listed in cables from north Africa as among Canadian nursing sisters who have arrived in the Mediterranean, is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Quinville of Wells and formerly of Merritt. A graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, she was popular here as an outstanding athlete on the running track. She enlisted in Scotland.

Miss Ruth Brown of Four Winds Camp, Orcas Island, was hostess to a party of 16 at the tea hour at the Empress Hotel Sunday. The American girls who attend this annual camp, all from well-known schools in the United States, are a familiar summer spectacle in Victoria, their scarlet and blue gym suits being an attractive note of color as they go shopping and sight-seeing. The camp's program has for years featured a visit of several days to Victoria as one of its entertainment highlights.

"Y" girls' work committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ross Crane, entertained Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Alastair Campbell, 3015 Uplands Road, to honor Miss Charlotte Crawford, bride-elect, and Miss Mary Westwood, girls' work secretary, who is leaving shortly. Miss Crawford was presented with a handsome Duncan Phyfe coffee table, by Mrs. Crane, with the good wishes of her fellow members, and Miss Westwood received a gift from the committee and also one from the board, the presentations being made by Mrs. J. J. Hamilton owing to the ill-

Nearly 600 books were donated to the book drive sponsored by the I.O.E. Saturday for the War Services Library. The books collected will be distributed among the camps of the three services on Vancouver Island, many of which are so remote that reading is the only entertainment available to the men.

So eager are the men of the services to read that it takes 800 books a month to keep the camp libraries on the island going, with the result that donations of books are always welcome. They may be left at Room 12, Metropolitan Building.

Garden flowers in profusion were used in decoration of St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church for the wedding July 15 at 8 p.m. of Megan Lucille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Thomas, 254 Island Highway, View Royal, and CPO. Alex. Norman Mount Williams, R.C.N.R., son of Mrs. Gordon Williams, Kingston-on-Thames, Surrey, England. Rev. F. H. Godfrey, naval chaplain, performed the ceremony.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length frock of white sheer, with shirred waist, gold-embroidered yoke, bishop sleeves and round neckline, buttoned at the back from neck to waistline. Her floor-length veil fell from a Mary Stuart headpiece and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas.

The bridesmaids were Misses Jeannette Stong and Margaret McKay in frocks of blue sheer with short-sleeved lace bodices and matching doll hats and veils. In lace-mittened hands they carried bouquets of pink snapdragons and gypsophila. CPO. Robert Skeith, R.C.N.V.R., was groomsmen, and acting as ushers were C. P. Walker Brockwell, R.N., and P.O. ## Order Clarified

Inquiries received at the National Selective Service office within the last few days have led officials to believe there has been some confusion over the Third Compulsory Order, resulting perhaps in the failure of some employees to register who should have done so.

The confusion, C. A. Mudge, director of the local Employment and Selective Service office, said, possibly resulted from the wording of the order, specifically in section B.

This section should really be divided into two parts, the first (1) relating to wholesale activity; the second, including (2) to (7) dealing with production or manufacture.

Under the order, Mr. Mudge stated, it should be noted that all wholesale trades are covered except those specifically mentioned in section (1).

The remaining sections list employments which are covered by the order. Mr. Mudge pointed out that any employers or employees who have previously misunderstood the order should immediately get in touch with the nearest Selective Service office.

The order requires the registration of men in civilian employment of the types specified, who are in age and marital classes already designated under mobilization regulations. It also covers young men, 16, 17 and 18 years of age. Further, it is now illegal for employers to retain in their services men of the types specified, except under Selective Service permit.

260 Army Cadets Become Officers

Calling on them to display "the kind of courage our enemies don't understand," Brig. A. D. Wilson, D.S.O., chairman of the Western Officers' Selection and Appraisal Board, Saturday congratulated 260 newly commissioned officers of the Canadian Active Army in a traditional ceremony at Gordon Head Officers' Training Centre.

In a brief address Brig. Wilson, a former commandant of the centre, said the graduates' certificates as officers were symbolic, not only of the effort and toil to which they were now committed, but also "a promise of the honor and glory that may be yours if you carry out the duties of an officer in the proper manner."

"Cherish the virtue of courage," he said. "If we have that in our army, no force in the world can stand up against us."

A large crowd of friends and relatives of the cadets saw the colorful parade that followed the graduation. At the saluting base with Brig. Wilson were Col. V. C. Ferrie, camp commandant, and Lt.-Col. A. J. Pritchard, chief instructor.

Reserve Army Given Real Battle Experience

By TOM MERRIMAN

HEAL'S CAMP—Men of the 3rd Battalion Canadian Scottish in training at Heal's saw weapons of war working during the weekend under conditions that realistically demonstrated their effectiveness.

Bren, Browning and Lewis gun bullets spat out to sea from the beach to which the men had marched for a short spell of training as a unit on the move. In the intervals, when the rattle of guns paused, instructors explained the reason for traverse or other forms of firing.

Another experience many of them have chalked up as part of their basic training was meeting the gas, about which they have been taught. With the weather conditions right, men, previously instructed on different gases and how to use respirators, found tear gas creeping towards them and the need for speedily donning their respirators was a real one.

Realism also entered into the training at the beach to which the men marched for a day away from the luxury of cookhouse meals and the comforts of sleeping on straw-filled palliases under canvas. The sand was their bed and the sky the ceiling. Every officer, N.C.O. and man was his own cook.

COOKED OWN MEALS

Most of the men as hunters or fishermen had had some cooking experience but for a surprising number of them it was the first time they had cooked for themselves. For a lot it was the first night of their lives spent under the stars.

Carrots, potatoes, bully beef and hard tack and bread were issued for the first open-air cook-your-own meal at the bivouac. Then it was a case of you are on your own. For some it was no trouble at all to turn it into an appetizing mulligan. A lot of them soaked the hard tack and made it part of the dish.

V.M.D. Welder Ted Maitland found it a cinch to cook for himself. He's been batching four years.

Cooking was easy for Will Fawcett, radio technician at Spencer's. He used to be a trapper in north Saskatchewan, and started learning bush lore before he was 14. Art Bailey of Yarrow's, accidentally up-ended perfectly cooked stew in the sand but his pals Henry Henslet, Stan Thorburn, Jim Sutherland and Harold Money in the same game at Yarrow's, shared their's with him.

Frank Hammond, pipe-fitter at Yarrow's, an ex-Glamorgan Yeomanry N.C.O., passed out cooking hints to 17-year-old Doug McColl, machinist apprentice at Whittaker and Revercomb.

NOT SO HOT
Young Lionel Walker, National Motors employee, described his own cooking as "not so hot. But these are good," he added, producing a big chocolate bar he was munching. Also with the National Motor crowd was Jack Greenwood, Sgt. Wally Williams and Verne Tucker.

Sixteen-year-old Jock Cruikshank admitted his cooking was "terrible." "I ate everything raw except the carrots," he said.

To sturdy Jasper Charles it wasn't anything to give a second thought. He is chief of the Beecher Bay Indians and incidentally a crack shot. At 850 yards he centres the target with a Browning.

SM. Arthur Bagshaw, technical teacher at Junior High, found his own cooking so good he thinks he may continue it when he gets home.

Howard Southam of the Naval Dockyard, admitted his cooking was pretty bad because there was not enough fat with the bully, but after he put water in the stew it turned out fine.

Officers grouped together enjoying their own cooking were A. J. Saunders, resident engineer Sidney Roofing and Paper Co., and Fred Green, distributing engineer B.C. Electric Railway Co.

PEEL 'EM AFTER
Sgt. Bob Jealous found the best way to cook potatoes is to put them in the fire and peel the skin off afterwards.

Sgt. Tom Dempster, in charge of training, had the assistance among other officers and N.C.O.'s of the Veterans Guard, of Lieut. A. L. Moore, Lieut. W. G. Stone, Sgt. C. B. Bailey and Cpl. W. J. Fynn.

The Scots Band put on a concert that went over well in the evening with Bandmaster Miller giving the number called for and the crowd joining in. "The Sally Ann" won a lot of friends when their war service mobile canteen drove in and distributed coffee to everybody who wanted it.

Before the boys bedded down for the night, Lt.-Col. Brooke Stephenson, O.C., gave them a talk on training.

With duties over the beach took on the aspect of a great picnic ground with ball games, swimming, wrestling and a variety of games in progress.

Sixteen-year-old Earle Jolly of Nanaimo High School, was put in as umpire of a softball game and did one of the best jobs ever seen in any league. R.C.O. beat the Scots 35 to 0.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have fallen in love with a girl who is five years older than I am. She has been married and divorced and has two little girls. I have known her only about a month and a half, but I want to marry her and help her to forget the awful past. I have a good job and can provide for them. I am 23. Don't you think that since we get along together so nicely it would work out O.K.?
YOUNG LOVER.

INEXPERIENCED YOUTH DARES FATE

Answer: If you happen to be the favorite of Lady Luck, such a marriage as you are contemplating might turn out happily, but all the chances are against it. Of course, there is risk in every marriage, but there is no sense in being a plunger and simply daring Fate.

To begin with, you are still a boy. You have had no experience of life as yet, while she has been through the mill. Any woman who has been married and divorced and borne children is, in reality, more than five years older than a lad of 23. She is practically as old as his mother, and by the time you get home from the war you would think of her that way and wish you had waited to pick out a girl for a wife.

Then, a month and a half acquaintance is too short a time in which to choose a life companion. It doesn't give you a chance to test out your own feelings and find out whether what you are experiencing is a passing fancy, or the grand passion. In six weeks you cannot possibly discover whether a woman is really intelligent, or whether she has just a little pitter of flip conversation, nor what sort of disposition she has, nor what principles and ideals, nor even if she is amiable or high-tempered. Any woman can put on an act for that length of time and pretend to be what she thinks you want her to be. But she can't keep it up. So give yourself time to make sure what sort of a human being she is before you tie up with her for life.

And there are the children. Taking on a ready-made family is a pretty heavy load for a 23-year-old boy to assume. You may not know it, but I'm telling you in confidence that children, what with their schooling and their adenoids and their tonsils and having their teeth straightened and all the other expenses that are necessary to their upkeep, are in the luxury class, and unless you make more money than most lads of 23 you had better do a lot of figuring before you take on stepchildren to support.

Dear Miss Dix: Will you be kind enough to write an article on sponging relatives and friends who always drop in just before mealtime? They are a problem in these food rationing days.

Answer: Personally, I don't think anything short of a shotgun will keep the self-indulgent guests, who always arrive just as you are sitting down to dinner, from grafting on you. But you might try being as frank as they are greedy, and say: "Sorry, old chap, can't ask you in to dinner, but you know how we are rationed and we haven't a single vitamin or calory to spare."

New Lease Ruling

Judge H. H. Shandley announced today that since amendment of the Rental Order, if a tenant, after receiving notice to vacate "housing accommodation," fails to file a notice that he intends to renew his lease, and an order is made "r possession the tenant cannot insist on an inquiry."

"This has already been in effect, but many tenants are unaware of it," Judge Shandley stated. "It is merely a word of warning that if tenants remain mute and passive and don't file a notice of renewal of lease, the landlord is entitled to possession." That notice must be filed within 15 days of receipt of the landlord's notice to vacate, he said.

Application costs, covering court action by a landlord, would have to be met by the tenant, he said.

Vegetable Growing Hobby of Our Boys In England; Gardens Around Airfields Help Maintain Morale

By JOHN STEINBECK
(Distinguished playwright and author)

LONDON—On the edges of Canadian and American airfields and between the barracks of troops in England it is no unusual thing to see complicated and carefully tended vegetable gardens. No one seems to know where the idea originated, but these gardens have been constantly increasing. It is fairly common now that a station furnishes a good part of its own vegetables and all of its own salad greens.

The idea, which had as its basis, probably, the taking of some of the free time of men where there were few entertainment facilities, has proved vastly successful. The gardens are run by the units and worked by the groups, but here and there a man may go out on his own and try and raise some strange seed which is not ordinarily seen in this climate. In every unit there is usually some man who knows about such things who advises on the planting, but even such men are often at a loss because vegetables are different here than at home.

SEASON SHORT AND COOL

The things that the men want to raise most, in order of choice, are green corn, tomatoes and peppers. None of these do very well in England unless there is a glass house to build up sufficient heat. Tomatoes are small; there are none of those master beefsteak tomatoes bursting with juice. It is a short, cool season. Green corn has little chance to mature and the peppers must be raised under glass. Nevertheless, every care is taken to raise them. Men who are taken away from home and homesick seem to take a mighty pleasure in working with the soil.

The gardens usually start out ambitiously. Watermelons and cantaloupes are planted and they have practically no chance of maturing at this latitude, where even cucumbers are usually raised in glass houses, but gradually some order grows out of the confusion. Lettuce, peas, green beans, green onions, potatoes do very well here, as do cabbages and turnips and beets and carrots. The gardens are lush and well tended. In the evenings, which are very long now, the men work in the beds. It does not get dark until 11 o'clock, there are only so many movies to be seen, English pubs are not exciting, but there does seem to be a constant excitement about the gardens, and the produce that comes from them tastes much better than that purchased in the open market.

One station has its headquarters in a large English country house which at one time must have been very luxurious. Part of the equipment of this place is a series of glass houses, and here the gardens are exceptional. There has never been any need to exert pressure to get the men to work in the gardens. They have taken it up with enthusiasm and in many cases men from the cities, who have never had a garden in their lives, have become enthusiastic. There is some contact with the normal about the garden, a kind of relationship with peace.

SOME GARDENS DESERTED

Now and then a garden just coming in to produce must be deserted as the unit is shifted to another area. But this does not seem to make any difference. The new unit takes over the garden, and the old one, if there is none at the new station, starts afresh. The value is in the doing of it. The morale value of the experiment is very high, so high that it is being suggested that supply officers should be equipped with an assortment of seeds as a matter of course. The seeds take up little room and gardening equipment can be made on the spot or is available nearly everywhere.

There is a great difference in the ordinary preparation of vegetables by the English and by us. The English usually boil their vegetables to a submissive, sticky pulp, in which the shape and, as some say, the flavor has long since been overcome. Our cooks do not cook their vegetables nearly so long, are apt to like them crisp. The English do not use nearly as many onions as we do and they use practically no garlic at all. The little gardens are a kind of symbol of revolt against foreign methods.

For example, the average English cook regards a vegetable with suspicion. It is his conviction that unless the vegetable is dominated and thoroughly convinced that it must offer no non-sense, it is likely either to revolt or to demand dominion status. Consequently only those vegetables are encouraged which are docile and capable of learning English ways.

DAYLIGHT IS BOILED OUT

The brussels sprout is a good example of the acceptable vegetable. It is first allowed to become large and fierce. It is then picked from its stem and the daylight is boiled out of it. At the end of a few hours the little wild lump of green has disintegrated into a curious, greyish paste. It is then considered fit for consumption.

The same method is followed with cabbage. While the cabbage is boiling it is poked and beaten until, when it is served, it has given up its character and tastes exactly like brussels sprouts, which in turn taste like cabbage. Carrots are allowed to remain yellow but nothing else of their essential character is maintained.

No one has yet explained this innate fear the English suffer from a revolt of the vegetables. The easy-going Canadian attitude of allowing the vegetable a certain amount of latitude short of the ballot is looked upon by the English as soft and degenerate. In the gardens certain English spies have reported they have seen soldiers pulling and eating raw carrots and turnips and onions.

It is strange to us Canadians and Americans that the English, who love dogs and rarely eat them, nevertheless are brutal with vegetables. It is just one of those national differences which are unfathomable.

Secret-Censor Orders Supported By House

OTTAWA (CP)—By a vote of 71 to 33, Commons today defeated a motion by Gordon Fraser, Prog. Con., Peterborough West, Ont., for production of censorship orders and regulations issued since the start of the war.

War Services Minister Lafleche opposed the motion because of "security reasons," which he said would prevent publication of many censorship regulations.

Prime Minister King suggested the order be passed subject to such reservations, because the United Kingdom and other Allied governments were involved in some orders.

Gordon Graydon, Prog. Con.

House leader, protested that this would mean "only a skeleton" return would be tabled.

After the vote, Mr. King said he would see that all censorship orders and regulations which could safely be published would be tabled in the House.

It was a straight party vote, all Liberals present against the combined opposition members present.

TRAIN WRECK SPILLS CARS AND KILLS ONE—More than 20 cars spilled over the 30-foot drop when two trains met head-on in the middle of the bridge over the Montmagny River in Quebec. The crash stood the two locomotives almost on end. Both jumped 15 feet into the air then settled back. The engineer of one train was killed and 15 others suffered minor injuries. Passenger and freight cars are piled up in the shallow river in a mass of wreckage. Children bathing in the river escaped minor injuries as coal from the hurtling cars showered them.

Registry Finds Rooms For Seattle Visitors

An influx of Vancouver and Seattle visitors who arrived in Victoria without reserving hotel accommodation swamped the local Housing Registry Saturday, where clerks were on duty until 9 at night attempting to locate rooms.

"Majority of the visitors were girls and women, and wherever we sent them we first inspect the rooms," Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse, manager of the Registry, stated today. "We have a group of volunteer women who do nothing else."

Four young girls from Seattle on learning there were no hotel rooms available headed for the local police station where they sought assistance. Police brought them to the Registry and rooms were finally found for them, Mrs. Rayfuse said.

The housing shortage, she added, has sent one shipyard worker with his wife and children back to Penticton, and another shipyard worker from the prairies is being housed with his wife and three children in a one-time tea room at Goldstream.

Forest fires last year burned over a total of 31,854,124 acres of United States woodlands; the total number of fires in the first war year was 208,218.

By PETE SALLAWAY

ALTHOUGH it is still the season for eating ice cream cones, peanuts (when you can get them) and playing baseball and box lacrosse, there's hockey news in the air. Talking to one of the officials of last year's service clubs in the Island League we were given the low-down on plans for next winter.

Service teams plan on organizing their own league with entries from the Army, Navy, R.C.A.F. and Nanaimo Army, making a well-balanced island circuit. Entry of the Army outfit from Nanaimo depends on whether or not the by-stander arena is taken over by Boeing Aircraft. Should there be no club from Nanaimo it is planned to operate a three-team circuit.

We are told the services will not be allowed to play in a league with a civilian club. Our information is that a definite order has been given in that respect. Such a league would leave the Victoria Machinery Depot out in the cold. Although nothing definite has been said we understand the shipyarders were figuring on operating a hockey club next winter. Now they will have no league to play in.

The new league will have members of the services as league officials and service referees will be used.

Eight-Team N.H.L.

Cleveland, Buffalo In

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—Here's how we get it from a couple of guys who can be called "reliable sources." The National Hockey League, which had plenty of tough going last season, will be an eight-club circuit with Cleveland and Buffalo added. It isn't that Al Stuphin and Eddie Shore want to give up that combination of minor league expenses and major league gates, but there won't be enough players for the American League to operate.

Washington, Providence and maybe New Haven will join the eastern A. A.—let's not call it amateur—United States League and so will Atlantic City when the army moves out of Convention Hall. The figuring is that there'll be enough kids available for the eastern circuit without cutting in on the physically "unfit" and the married men over 25. Who'll fill the big league rosters. Of course, there's the ticklish question of getting "clearances" for the athletes, but if necessary the National League will play only week-end games and the players will work at war jobs the other five days.

Apache Captures Jamaica Handicap; Longden Kicked

NEW YORK (AP)—William Woodward's Apache won the Fleetwing Handicap at Jamaica Saturday but most of the excitement occurred after the running of the $7,500 added six-furlong stake before a crowd of 28,461.

Jockey Johnny Longden, back from a vacation on his Nevada ranch following early-season triumphs aboard Count Fleet, was left at the post with Josephine Grimes' With Regards. Longden brought the colt back and was unsaddling him at the finish line when With Regards suddenly kicked the little Canadian rider. Longden fell over, the wind knocked out of him. He cancelled his mounts in the last two races. He was not seriously injured.

Under Jimmy Stout's guidance, Apache won by a length over Donald P. Ross' Pompon, six lengths in front of Mrs. Tilroy Christopher's Kingfisher, who had another two lengths on his stablemate, Doublerab, the 1942 winner.

Under top weight of 128 pounds Apache sprinted the distance in 1:11.35 to earn the purse of $6,225 and pay his backers $4.20 for each $2 win ticket.

Jezebel Winner Of Arlington Futurity

CHICAGO (AP)—The entry of John March, Chicago contractor, ran one-two in the $80,000 Arlington Futurity at Washington Park Saturday, but it wasn't Occupy the two-year-old brother of Occupation, that triumphed.

The winner was Jezebel, one of a trio of juveniles March sent to the post in an attempt to make a clean sweep.

This little grey gelding, the son of Pharamond 'Jezebel, plowed through the mud to overhaul Occupy in the last 50 yards to win by half a length. Alorier, owned by A. C. Ernest of Cleveland, O., was third, two and a half lengths behind Occupy and a head in front of Mrs. Helen Miller's Ogham.

The March entry went to the post even money favorite and returned $420, $3.60 and $2.60. Alorier paid $4.60 to show. Jezebel, ridden by Jockey Otto Grohs, ran the six furlongs in 1:16.15 over the heavy, holding track. The thrilling race was witnessed by a crowd of 18,000.

Weekend Baseball

Navy, V.M.D. Win

Navy baseballers were sole occupants of second place in the senior circuit, one game back of the Victoria Machinery Depot, following Saturday's pair of games.

Coch Whitey Mepard's bluejackets came up with a 11 to 6 triumph over the Army, while the V.M.D. kept ahead of the pack by turning back the last-place Eagles 6 to 1.

Although the Navy only outthrew the Army by a single blow 13 to 12 the sailors had a big edge on the troops in the field. Navy were charged with a lone error during the nine innings, while the Army had eight bobbles charged against them. Army had trouble all afternoon fielding the ball and after the Navy had grabbed a five-run lead in the first two innings were always on top, sewing up the game with a five-run outburst in the first of the eighth.

Jimmy Dumeah, strong-armed right hander, pitched for the Navy and although he gave up an even dozen base knocks, he was seldom in trouble. Dumeah struck out eight and walked four. Lefty Medansky started for the Army and lasted seven and two-thirds innings. He gave up 13 hits and 11 runs, walked three and struck out half a dozen. Medansky contributed three of the Army errors. He was replaced by Stan Curry, another southpaw, who finished the game with no hits and no runs against him.

Fielding highlights of the game were provided by Gil Bruce, fast-moving centre fielder of the Navy, who picked two balls off the fence to receive a big hand from the large crowd.

TOO MANY ERRORS

Helped along to victory by eight Eagles' errors the V.M.D. had little trouble coming up with their 14th win of the season.

Maurice Diamond hurled a fair brand of ball for the lodgemen but just didn't get any kind of support in the field. Diamond gave up only seven safeties, all singles, while the Eagles collected a like number from Jack Coughlin. V.M.D. grabbed a 2 to 0 lead in the first inning and at the end of the sixth it was 3 to 1. In the seventh an error and tough

Harper of the C's took six wickets for 26 runs, and Jack Payne four for 14. Hogarth led the Albions with seven wickets for 15 runs.

Haegg Registers Easy Mile Win, Far Off Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gunder Haegg of Sweden, world's greatest long-distance footracer, failed in his attempt Saturday to run the fastest mile in history, but demonstrated to 15,000 spectators at Kezar Stadium why he holds most of the records from 1,500 to 5,000 metres.

Haegg clicked off the mile in 4 minutes 12.6 seconds, showing the way to America's 1,500-metre champion, Gil Dodds of Boston. He set his own pace and moved into the lead after the third lap.

The swift Swede seemed almost to loaf in the final 200 yards.

Haegg's time was slow compared with his own best mile race of 4:04.6, a time which was bettered by two seconds a few days ago in Sweden by his countryman, Arne Andersson.

Haegg's chances of establishing a new record for one mile were handicapped somewhat by lack of opposition.

DODDS EARLY LEADER

Dodds was an active contender for the first two laps. He sprinted into the lead shortly after the start and maintained a two-yard advantage for the first 880 yards. Haegg started moving up slowly and after a third of the third lap had been passed, Gunder took command.

Thereafter, Haegg was on his own. Evidently he decided not to bear down. He glanced back frequently and loped home with seven-foot strides.

Only Dodds was able to give him the semblance of a contest. He finished some 30 yards behind, while Bobby Madrid, former Fresno, Calif., State College man, trailed Dodds by 100 yards. John Fulton of Stanford trailed the field.

Olympic Games Will Be Better—Burgley

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC (Delayed)—Prediction that the Olympic Games would be bigger and better than ever and would help bring about a better understanding among peoples was made here by Lord Burgley, England's famed amateur athlete and winner of the 400-metre hurdles race at the 1928 Olympic Games.

Lord Burgley stopped here during a tour in his official capacity as controller of supplies and repairs in the British Ministry of Aircraft Production.

"After the war," said Lord Burgley, "sport will be a great factor in bringing people together again. Sports will continue as before, for the principles behind athletic competition remain the same."

The Olympic Games, he said, held the people of the world together for a long spell, and they will be instrumental in holding them together after the war.

Detroit Police Win

TORONTO (CP)—Detroit police force outstepped Montreal and Toronto athletes to win the 61st annual police games at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds here Saturday afternoon.

A crowd of 17,000 people was on hand to see Detroit pile up 11 firsts, seven seconds and two thirds for a total of 49 points. Montreal was second with 34 points and Toronto last with 19 points.

Montreal police were victors in the Canadian championship, chalking up 59 points against 43 for Toronto.

Yankees Capture Eighth Straight

Win Two From Philadelphia; Cards Win One

There are no fewer than four "suspended games" in the National League which must be played to completion at some future date. Two of them already have been entered in the standings as won and lost for the teams involved, the other two have not.

Sunday Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew halted the second game of a doubleheader at Pittsburgh after seven innings with St. Louis Cardinals leading 6 to 5. Under ordinary baseball rules this would have become a victory for the Redbirds as soon as play ceased. But the National League passed an "anti-stalling" rule last winter which said that contests halted before the end of nine innings because of curfew must later be played to completion.

So instead of a victory for the Cards, who earlier in the day had whipped the Pirates 7 to 4 for Mort Cooper's 12th triumph, the game simply entered a state of suspended animation until Sept. 1, the date agreed upon for its conclusion.

At Boston the Massachusetts Sunday curfew stopped the second contest between the Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers in the midst of a Boston rally in the sixth inning with the count at 4 to 4. Play will be resumed at an unspecified later date. The Dodgers bagged the first game 8 to 5 in 11 innings.

The other two games that must be completed were "suspended" as the result of protests after they presumably had been completed and already had been entered in the standings. League President Ford Frick ruled in these two cases that the games should remain in the standings until and if they needed to be reversed after they are completed.

The New York Yanks Sunday swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia Athletics to extend their winning streak to eight games and 12 victories in their last 13 starts. Bill Johnson's three-run homer helped wrap up the first decision 7 to 2 and the Yanks struggled to a 4 to 3 verdict in 10 innings in the nightcap.

Washington Senators, in second place, kept the pace by taking two games from Boston Red Sox, 9 to 2 and 5 to 4. Cleveland Indians subdued St. Louis Browns twice, 4 to 3 and 10 to 7.

In the other American League skirmishing Detroit divided a doubleheader with Chicago White Sox, taking the first game 12 to 4 and dropping the second 4 to 1.

In the National League Chicago Cubs crushed Cincinnati Reds twice, 3 to 1 and 7 to 0, to vault into fifth place.

The New York Giants topped the Phillies twice, 10 to 6 and 3 to 2.

COAST LEAGUE

The aging arm of 43-year-old Syl Johnson had all its magic Sunday as Seattle's veteran hurler allowed Oakland but two hits in pitching the Rainiers to an 11 to 0 victory. Only 27 men faced Johnson in the game, the opener of a twin bill, while Seattle had a field day against Vince DiBiasi and Floyd Stromme.

Hugh Luby got to Johnson for a single in the opening inning and Jack de Vincenzi repeated the feat in the fifth. At all other times Johnson had the Oaks eating out of his hand.

The Oaks won the second game, 5 to 4, and dropped the series, four games to three.

Hollywood tripped third-place Portland twice by counts of 8 to 7 and 5 to 4, but lost the series, three games to four.

Johnson wasn't the only sparkling pitching performance Sunday. The sad Sacramento Solons finally found something to cheer about as southpaw Clem Dreiser and Johnny Pinter each turned in one-hit performances, against second-place San Francisco. The scores were 3 to 0 and 2 to 1.

At San Diego the Padres and Los Angeles divided a pair. The league leaders won the opener, 4 to 2, when San Diego committed five errors, and the Padres came back to win the second, 2 to 1.

Movies Toughest On Capitol Screen

The movies' toughest tough guy, Alan Ladd, the lovely Loretta Young and Wild Bill Bendix, the lovable lug, team up in "China," Paramount's newest and most exciting war film now at the Capitol Theatre. Directed by John Farrow, the film's cast includes 20 Chinese girls who portray university students whose odyssey is the theme of the story. Trapped in the path of a Japanese advance, the students, with their American teacher, Miss Young, are attempting to reach safety when they are aided by Ladd and Bendix, American oil men who have the only available means of transportation, a truck, and a band of Chinese guerrillas.

Fine Alaska Story Feature at Atlas

"Spawn of the North" is a motion picture adaptation of the famous novel of the same name by Barrett Willoughby, the best-known writer of Alaska and an important figure in the growing literary movement of the Territory. With George Raft, Henry Fonda and Dorothy Lamour at the head of an all-star cast, it will open today at the Atlas Theatre.

Filmed under the direction of Henry Hathaway, the man who made "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," "I Met My Love Again" and "Souls at Sea," "Spawn of the North" tells the story of two fishing comrades, played by Raft and Fonda, who become enemies when a war for the control of the "meadows of the sea" breaks out.

'Charleston' Stages Comeback at Rio

The "Charleston," the dance which swept the nation in the late '20's, is revived by George Raft in "Broadway," the Universal hit, currently screening at the Rio Theatre. During the height of the dance craze, Raft was noted as its foremost exponent. He was noted at the same time as possessing "the fastest feet" on Broadway.

In the film, "Broadway," Raft dances the "Charleston" as part of his role as a nitery hoofing star of the prohibition era in which most of the play is laid. With Janet Blair, his leading lady, Raft also does an unusual interpretation of the tango. Raft has Pat O'Brien as his co-star in "Broadway," which was directed by William A. Seiter.

Star Studded Film Returning to York

Every Paramount star you can think of, and more than that, is in the long-heralded musical comedy, "Star Spangled Rhythm," which comes today to the York Theatre.

And by "every Paramount star you can think of" we mean such outstanding favorites as Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Fred MacMurray, Franchot Tone, Ray Mitty, Victor Moore, Dorothy

There's a bevy of Chinese beauties with Alan Ladd and Loretta Young (inset) in Paramount's new romantic war drama, "China," now at the Capitol Theatre, but the champion scene stealer is the young lady in the bathtub, tiny Irene Tso.

Lamour, Paulette Goddard, Vera Zorina, Mary Martin, Dick Powell, Betty Hutton, Eddie Bracken, Veronica Lake, Alan Ladd, Rochester, and many, many others.

The story tells of the dilemma of the Paramount Studio gate-man, Victor Moore, who has been pretending to his sailor son, Eddie Bracken, that he runs the studio. When Eddie shows up on shore leave, the old man is on the spot. Betty Hutton helps him off via a series of hilarious deceptions, in which more than 48 stars and directors actually appear, and do their stuff.

Comedy at Cadet

Richard Lane, who plays the book publisher in Universal's newest Abbott and Costello starrer, "Ride 'Em Cowboy," now at the Cadet Theatre, is the owner of Hollywood's most photographed face.

In four years that elapsed after he abandoned the Broadway stage for motion pictures, he appeared in 98 films, or an average of practically 25 annually.

Ronald Oldham Leads New Bomber Group

Flt. Lt. Ronald Oldham, a former Victoria High School student and a resident of Victoria and Vancouver for many years, led the new R.A.F. French-Lorraine bomber squadron when it made its first operational flight on Bastille Day, July 14. Oldham, who is 29, was the navigator of the leading plane when the new day-bomber squadron blasted the Abbeville airfield in northern France, according to an announcement by the British Air Ministry in London.

Born in Calgary, Oldham is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Oldham, now of Vancouver, but formerly of Victoria. After attending High School here he attended University of British Columbia, where he graduated in arts. Before joining the R.C.A.F. in September, 1940, he was a teacher at a boys' school in West Vancouver. He took his R.C.A.F. training at Malton and Jarvis, Ontario, and at Three Rivers, Manitoba, receiving his wings at Toronto in June, 1941. In July of that year, just after being commissioned, he crossed the Atlantic as the navigator of a bomber. In a raid over France last year he was wounded and was in hospital for two months. He was promoted to the rank of flying officer while convalescing.

On June 11, last, his birthday, he received word that he had been made a flight lieutenant. Last fall he married an English girl.

Oldham's three brothers are all in Canada. All one-time residents of Victoria, they are: Jack N. Oldham of the Toronto Star, Toronto; F.O. William Oldham, 22, temporary instructor at Dufresne, Sask., and L.A.C. Martin Oldham, 30, now in training at Montreal.

Sailor Drowns In Thetis Lake

Provincial Police and the naval shore patrol continued dragging operations at Thetis Lake today for the body of a naval rating who disappeared Sunday afternoon while swimming.

Name of the missing sailor is being withheld pending confirmation of next-of-kin. It is understood, however, that the rating was stationed at Esquimalt, but his home town was in Quebec.

No details of the accident were available today, except that the youth disappeared while swimming off the float at the south end of the lake.

Dragging operations were started Sunday night by Constable John Lockie of the B.C. Police, and the naval shore patrol. Operations had not been successful at noon today.

This is the first drowning in the Greater Victoria area this season.

Both Cygnets At Park Lost

Victoria's parks department, which rejoiced early this month over the hatching of two cygnets to Beacon Hill Park swans, was saddened today with the report the second of the two fluffy little water birds had vanished.

The first was lost late this week. The second disappeared between Saturday night and Sunday.

Loss of the baby swans follows experience of the last five or six years. The diminishing flock has produced only two a year for some time. They attract wide attention in Goodacre Lake for a few weeks and then disappear without trace.

Last week W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, expressed fears the first bird had been destroyed by a dog. He revised that opinion today in view of the fact no trace had been found of it. The cygnets, he added, would be too young for the stew pot.

Stars Provided Exciting Race

Close finishes by international stars featured the first of the B series of races run off by the R.V.Y.C. at Cadboro Bay Sunday.

It was anybody's race all the way, with Mintaka crossing the finishing line but 15 seconds ahead of Boykin.

Dinghies and snipes also competed.

Course was from the club dolphin to beach mark, Flower Island and Patterson Point; back to beach mark, Flower Island and Patterson Point and then on to beach mark and home, twice around.

The wind was northerly and light.

Finishing times were: Stars—Mintaka, W. Barrett, 11.49.15; Boykin, W. Blandy, 11.49.30; Nomana, H. Wells, 11.50.00; Ripples, Walter Walsh, 11.50.15; Aquila, A. Packford, 11.52.30; Cygnus, W. Mackie, 12.05.45; Dinghies—Penguin, J. Ellison, 11.59.15; Kismet, Harry Gann, 11.59.15; Guillemot, A. Taylor, 12.01.00; Falcon, Nick Blandy, 12.05.30; Teal, W. Wakelyn, 12.15.10; Snipes—Klatawa, H. Van Dyke, 12.15.05; Redskin, W. Teller, 12.18.45; Noname, J. Congdon, 12.34.30; Pelican, Jack Moran, 12.36.30; Trillium, Miss E. McKay, 12.20.00. Miss McKay sailed the Seaboard class Trillium over the Snipe course. Snipe We Jo, sailed by Ian Kenning, fouled buoy and was disqualified, failing to finish.

Col. Eric Pepler, commodore, was officer of the day, as well as timekeeper.

Last of Local Fruit

With the local cherry crop half over and loganberries very close to the end of their season, wholesalers today warned that fruit counters in Victoria may look a little bare until later fruits come in in big enough quantities to fill the gap. There are, however, still plenty of preserving peaches and apricots and new crop apples are not likely to be scarce.

Ltd. The accused said he expected to join the navy in two or three months. Magistrate H. C. Hall said he regarded gasoline theft as a very serious matter. Cleghorn will be sentenced Tuesday.

Narcotics Stolen

A medical satchel containing doctor's supplies, narcotics and hypodermic syringe and needles, was stolen from Dr. E. W. Boak's car, parked in the driveway of his home at 1070 Joan Crescent, he told city police.

Later, Dr. Boak reported, there had been a prowler around his home.

Detectives George Clayards and P. Richards are investigating for the city police, while Constable John Watson of the R.C.M.P. was notified Sunday.

Victorian in Raid On Italian Airfield

A former Victoria schoolboy, P.O. J. B. McAllister, whose parents live at 405 Michigan St., took part in the big R.C.A.F. raid on an Italian airfield in Sicily, according to a Canadian Press dispatch.

P.O. McAllister came here to live 11 years ago and attended South Park and Victoria High Schools, and worked at Fairbridge Farm School and with the Island Tug and Barge Co. before enlisting.

Canadians Clash With Nazi Troops; Nanaimo Man There

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH CANADIAN TROOPS IN SICILY (Delayed, C.P.)

Canadian troops and German infantry came to grips for the first time in Sicily in the battle which preceded the fall to the Canadian 1st Division of Grammichele, northwest of Vizzini.

Canadian tanks knocked out at least one German Mark 111 tank and destroyed two half-tracks.

(Fall of Grammichele to the Canadians was announced Saturday. They had occupied Vizzini earlier last week in their drive up through the centre of the front from their landing beaches.

(Today the Canadians took Piazza Armerina.)

(Reuters news agency reported that a composite Canadian-U.S. force in the great central thrust is penetrating mountain country toward Enna following the capture of Piazza Armerina, which came after a push through a mountain defile from Satagirona.

(The dispatch seemed to mean that the Canadians are filling a flexible role, augmenting British or U.S. troops, or acting alone, as the situation dictates.)

LIEUTENANT'S STORY

In an old garage in Grammichele, Lieut. Herb Long of Port Hope, Ont., told me the story of the fight around this town Friday.

A reconnaissance patrol of a tank unit and Bren carriers of an infantry regiment were moving up to the town at a fast clip when they ran smack into the enemy.

There was a small force of German tanks on a hill one-third of a mile west of the town, and German infantry of the Herman Goering Division which had fought in Tunisia for a while, with Italian infantry in Grammichele itself.

WAS FIRST CLASH

This was the first time Canadians and Germans met in Sicily.

"We were leading the 8th Army up the road near this town when it happened," said Long. German tanks and half-tracked vehicles with multiple pompons mounted, opened up on our carriers. Our men returned the fire. Germans and Italians in Grammichele were firing on us with machine guns, rifles, mortars and even some artillery.

"Some of our tanks came up and took on the German tanks and half-tracks on hills west of the town. They knocked out one Mark III and destroyed two half-tracks. I understand one of our tanks was knocked out.

"Then our infantry, which had been reinforced by now, rushed Grammichele and cleared out the enemy. A few Germans were killed and a couple taken prisoner, but for the most part they cleared off as we attacked," leaving the Italians. We got about 200 Italian prisoners."

7,000 PRISONERS

I drove through Grammichele and went on to Canadian headquarters, where I learned that the total number of prisoners taken by Maj.-Gen. Guy Simonds' Canadians now has probably reached the 7,000 mark. There is a definite figure of 5,000 and hundreds of other Italians are being rounded up and taken back to camp. Captured enemy booty is mounting, also.

A captain from Nanaimo, B.C., told me the Germans had dropped paratroops north of Vizzini to try to stiffen that front, but it proved unsuccessful and the paratroopers withdrew.

All Saanich Scared Of Big Black Bear

Game wardens and Saanich police were still on the lookout today for a large black bear, which during the past two weeks has raided a number of Saanich orchards in search of cherries and berries.

"All Saanich is scared," J. W. Jones, B.C. government game warden, said today. But he assured: "He won't attack anybody."

Last week a group headed by J. W. Jones and composed of two Saanich police officers and two other hunters, attempted to corner the bear off Old West Saanich Road, near Elk Lake. The bear, estimated to weigh 250 pounds, was surrounded, but escaped although six shots were fired at him. Warden Jones does not believe the bear was hurt.

He said it was impossible for one person to shoot the wily marauder because it could outrun dogs and could not be treed. He said he would be after him again the next time he showed up.

The bear was first seen by some girls about two weeks ago near Keating. Then he turned up at Elk Lake and evaded hunters. Last Saturday he was seen on a farm near Beaver Lake, and damaged several cherry trees.

About this time a lady reported to Warden Jones that she had seen "the old devil."

Although he has gained quite a reputation in Saanich, the bear remains unnamed.

Motorist Fined $40 After Car Hits Pole

Frederick Parkinson, who Saturday evening crashed his car into a high tension power pole at Raynor and Catherine, pleaded guilty in city police court today of dangerous driving. He was fined $40 and his license was suspended for three months.

Constable William Andrews, who attended at the scene with Sgt. J. Blackstock and Constable Tom Banister, said the car jarred the pole, supporting wires carrying 60,000 volts, loose at the base and left it leaning at an angle. Parkinson's car was considerably damaged, he said.

Bawa Singh, 741 Cloverdale, was charged with dangerous driving today following an accident on Gorge Road Sunday afternoon in which his car jumped the curb and overturned. At the request of his counsel, P. J. Sinnott, he was remanded until next Monday without plea.

Police said Bawa Singh was traveling west on Gorge Road near Manchester when his car went out of control. The driver received treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital from Dr. A. C. Sinclair. He was released from hospital Sunday night.

R.A.F. Planes Pound West Greece Town

CAIRO (AP)—R.A.F. Beau fighters and U.S. heavy bombers were over the Ionian Sea and Italian mainland Saturday and early Sunday, raiding shipping and rail and port facilities, an air ministry communique announced today.

British Beau fighters swept over the Ionian Sea, blasting at shipping and the jetty at the port town of Kyllene on the west coast of Greece. Bomb hits were observed on the bow of a two-master schooner.

American bombers struck at Reggio Calabria on the Italian mainland across from Messina, their bombs landing in the railway sidings and munition sheds where fires broke out. Observers saw one large and several small fires burning as they left the target.

The communique said all aircraft returned safely to base.

COMMANDS CANADIANS—

Maj.-Gen. Guy Simonds, who is leading the Dominion's 1st Division in Sicily, was educated in Victoria, attending University School in 1918 when Rev. G. H. Scarlett was headmaster. From Victoria he went to Ottawa with his family and proceeded to Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., where he attained distinction in his studies.

Generous Donations Asked for Veterans

Material assistance has been given to over 900 families since the inception of the Victoria branch, Canadian Pensioners' Association, said R. C. Keane, honorary secretary, in an appeal to local citizens to contribute enough to enable the work to be continued. The annual tag day, the association's only means of revenue, will be held next Saturday.

In addition to bringing the claims of ex-servicemen and women before the federal authorities the association undertakes to supply Christmas hampers to needy veterans and tobacco and other comforts to men serving overseas. Already, during the present conflict, over 200,000 cigarettes have been sent off and the demand is increasing all the time.

Generous donations will be needed on Saturday, Mr. Keane said, if the boys overseas are not to be disappointed. He pointed out that all the work of the association is done on a voluntary basis.

Coroner Will Probe Shipworker's Death

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, announced today an inquest into the death of William Yorston, 66-year-old shipyard worker, would be conducted at Sands Mortuary at 10-30 Wednesday morning.

The coroner described the case as statutory, saying Yorston had been treated at hospital for injuries suffered in a shipyard accident two months ago and released from hospital. He returned to Royal Jubilee Hospital last week and passed away Saturday.

Mr. Yorston was born at Orkney, Sask. He settled in the Cariboo district 39 years ago. He had lived at Metehosin for about 10 years.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. W. Muir, Mel-drum Creek, B.C.; Mrs. Leonard Basille, Gabriola Island, B.C.; 10 grandchildren, a brother, Robert, Australian, B.C., and a sister, Mrs. Charles Leonard, Quesnel, B.C.

Funeral services will be conducted from St. Mary's Church Metehosin, Wednesday afternoon.

Vancouver Reduces City Wood Supply

So much Vancouver Island wood is being sent to Vancouver, cars needed to ship the fuel south to Victoria are tied up and operators, without means of moving their accumulating supplies, are burning it, members of the city meeting in the City Hall today.

When the wood is moved, committee members said, the cars are tied up on the mainland waiting transport back to the island. In the meantime mills find waste which is available for fuel piling up. In order to clear their plants they are forced to burn it and wood-hungry Victoria goes without.

In an effort to prevent continuance of the carrier bottle-neck the committee, under the chairmanship of Ald. W. L. Morgan, wired Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, under whose jurisdiction the fuel matter rests.

The telegram asks Mr. Howe for action and requests power for the City Council to cut red-tape and ensure speedier deliveries to Victorians.

One indication of problems here was submitted as a sample to the committee today. According to a report, a dealer scheduled to receive 33 carloads last week, received only one, owing to transportation difficulties.

Gyros See Oil Film

A detailed picture of the processes involved in drilling for oil was shown before members of the Victoria Gyro Club at their weekly luncheon in Empress Hotel today.

Reid Hunter and Ernest Drummond of the Shell Oil Company of British Columbia showed the picture, which was taken in the swamps of Louisiana.

Bud Hocking reported briefly on the recent Gyro convention in Toronto and G. B. Paterson introduced the guest speaker, Fred Hayes, vice-president, was in the chair.

Randolph F. Crow Here

Randolph Fairfax Crow, chairman of the board of directors of the South Texas Cotton Oil Co., the Watson Oil Co. and number of other corporations in the south, reached Victoria today from Houston, Texas, via Seattle. Mr. Crow, who has been an annual visitor to Victoria for the past 16 years, plans to remain at the Empress Hotel for a month.

When a Lady Asked

"DO YOU SELL USED PIANOS?"

We felt discouraged—for we've advertised that fact for nearly half a century. But perhaps she was a newcomer. We reassured her by showing her the greatest bargain she'd ever seen in a fine famous name Used Piano that she would certainly have thought was brand new. We'd like to surprise you, too.

Killed in Tunisia

Word of the death in Tunisia, May 4, of Lieut. Gerard F. Barnes, R.A.M.C., was received by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dalzell, 850 Somers Street.

Their son-in-law, a graduate of King's College and Charing Cross Hospital, was mentioned in dispatches for having driven an ambulance behind enemy lines to rescue the crew of a Bren gun carrier.

Lieut. Barnes was the husband of the former Margaret Dalzell, who attended school in Victoria. They were married in March, 1942.

Besides his wife, Lieut. Barnes leaves a three-month-old son, Jeremy, a brother, Lieut. John Barnes, R.E., and his father, Lt. Col. B. Barnes, M.C., in London.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Except for assorted peace stocks which edged into new high ground, market leaders generally were not notably unresponsive today to the exceptionally cheering war news. Transfers were around 900,000 shares.

Inability of the list to inaugurate a bullish push in the wake of victories on virtually all battle fronts led some Wall Streeters to believe the recent price jump to best average levels in nearly four years may have discounted to a degree Allied successes.

In the Canadian group, Dome Mines gained 1/2 and Distillers-Seagram 1/4. Hiram Walker was off 1/4. C.P.R. and Lake Shore sold unchanged.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 Industrials	144.74, up 0.02
20 Rails	37.65, up 0.01
15 Utilities	22.19, up 0.01
Total sales	834,000.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wheat futures lost 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents a bushel today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, influenced by lack of support and weaker trends at Chicago. July closed at $1.07 1/2.

Commission houses and American interests made minor purchases. No export business was reported in Canadian wheat or flour.

Shippers took odd cars of Nos. 1 and 2—northern in the cash wheat market at unchanged spreads. No important business was reported in cash coarse grains.

Trade was light in rye futures with values lower in sympathy with declines at Chicago. Oats and barley futures remained at ceiling prices.

Country wheat marketing Saturday amounted to 702,000 bushels compared with 678,000 bushels last year.

Bralorne Jumps

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bralorne took an upward swing on the Vancouver Stock Exchange this morning when shares jumped from Saturday's price of $11.00 to $11.60. Oils remained steady, with Anglo-Canadian holding Saturday's price of 79. Total sales were $2,940 shares.

Home Oil at New Top

TORONTO (CP)—Stocks finished today's Toronto exchange market on a fairly strong note, holding gains in all four index groups. Some new highs for the year were posted. Turnover was about 600,000 shares.

Gains were fairly well distributed in the gold group. The papers, foods, senior goods and utilities had more gains than losses and the miscellaneous issues displayed mild weakness.

Home Oil pushed on to a new top at $4.10 and closed at $4.08 for a gain of 15 cents. Calgary and Edmonton gained 3/4, British-Dominion 2, Royalite 1/2 and East Crest 1/4. Prices were down slightly for Davies and Vermilion.
